Classically Modern

When Hollub Homes set out to design this kitchen, designer Helene Hollub knew that the use of color was a desirable element among potential buyers along the Palm Beach waterway location. Her goal: to design a kitchen unlike any other within the development. To achieve this, Hollub joined classic Mediterranean style with modern appliances to fashion a room that is both antique and contemporary. To bring color and character to the room, Hollub imported a custom marble mosaic backsplash from Italy; she also arranged two built-in cabinets in the kitchen's entryway. Maple cabinetry by Cuisine Laurier serves as the most prominent trait of the kitchen. The cabinets above the cooktop—painted a soft green hue—complement the remaining cabinetry throughout the room, which displays a light natural tone with brown glaze. Labrador green granite countertops balance the green cabinets, and a custom marble mosaic backsplash from Italy tops the design. Since completion, the room is perfectly suited for the client, who entertains frequently. A long service bar adorns both sides, and two sinks—one located next to the dishwasher and a prep sink in the island—make preparations a snap. The finished product is a fully functional kitchen space with innovative appliances that boasts a classic aesthetic.
